Influenza and COVID-19 Vaccines Are Now Available

Why immunize?

Respiratory illness—like influenza, COVID-19, and RSV—affects the airway and lungs. Vaccines are the best way to protect yourself and the people around you against respiratory illness.
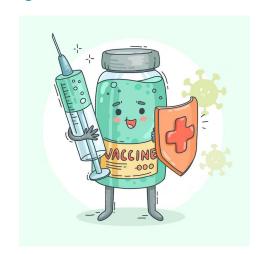

Influenza

It's recommended that all Albertans age 6 months and older get the influenza vaccine every year.

COVID-19

Eligible children and adults can get the COVID-19 vaccine.

If you have questions, speak with your doctor or pharmacist.

www.myhealth.alberta.ca

Patients with rheumatic diseases who are using immunomodulating medications are eligible for vaccine at no cost.
